December Chronicles: Highlights and Hindsight

The final month of the year came to life with winter chill and exams. Despite this, we managed to balance our festive events and the stressful exams! With the grand decorations and bedecked Christmas trees, A festive spirit had enveloped the school. In the first week, the school celebrated STEAM DAY.

STEAM DAY

Every year, Babaji Vidhyashram hosts a day dedicated to fostering creativity and igniting young minds. Here creativity meets curiosity, like steam rising from fresh ideas in Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Math. This day allows their imaginations a chance to soar, a day to watch brilliant thoughts take flight! Each year during steam day, an individual student gets to work on their interdisciplinary project which has 3 stages based on one of the United Nations' Sustainable Development goals provided.

CHRISTMAS A TIME FOR JOY AND GENEROSITY

As Charles M. Schulz wisely observed, "It's not what's under the tree that matters, it's who's around it," a sentiment that perfectly captured the spirit of Christmas celebrations at Babaji Vidhyashram. In order to commemorate this wonderful holiday the students of Babaji Vidhyashram engaged in a multitude of activities!

The air crackled with excitement as the festive spirit filled the halls of Babaji Vidhyashram. The students commemorated Christmas with great pomp and enthusiasm! The children of grades 1 - 5 adorned in various holiday colors eagerly awaited for the Christmas assembly to begin.

MOOT COURT

Recently, the school gave us an opportunity to participate in a very thought engaging yet exciting activity- moot court. It was indeed an educational activity as it gave me insights on how supreme courts, judicial courts, and other courts have sessions. It was fascinating to see the live courtroom proceedings.

PRIMARY PANORAMA

On December 7, 2024, our primary students enjoyed a day of creativity, excitement, and learning during STEAM Day. This event celebrated Science, Technology, Engineering, Arts, and Mathematics, with students from Grades 1, 2, and 3 eagerly presenting their experiments, projects, and discoveries. The atmosphere was electric as the children shared their innovative experiments with parents and judges, showcasing everything from vibrant chemical reactions to interactive engineering models.

SCIENCE ON SPOTLIGHT

Science is all about observing, investigating, experimenting, analyzing, and inferring. An opportunity was given to students to unleash their curiosity, do simple experiments, and unlock the answers to many things around us. First up, we had the Eureka Parent-Child activity, which took place on STEAM Day. The parents and children were teamed up and given a bunch of fun tasks. This activity fostered communication and understanding between the parents and children, strengthening their relationship.

4th and 5th graders were teamed up to participate in the Inter House Battle of Pictures - Pictionary Contest. A few students were elated to be teamed up with their old buddies and the others stood poised, ready to answer all questions.

ANTHOLOGY Beauty is in the Eye of the Beholder!

As part of our grade 12 English project, we were taken to the school's nature lab, where the greenery was to serve as our muse. Surrounded by lush greenery, we were tasked with writing our own poem on the theme of beauty. Later, we delved into a comparative analysis of our original poems with John Keats' renowned work, "A Thing of Beauty." This activity allowed us to appreciate the power of language and explore the various interpretations of beauty.

In you, in me, in us

Ananya Puchipeddi

So, they said,
write about 'beauty.'
Little did they know,
beauty can't be written about,
it can't be expressed
for it is only felt; seen.
Beauty doesn't lie in the eyes,
of the beholder, as professed.
Beauty lies within, in experience,
in love.

FOUNDERS DAY

December 18th stands as a momentous occasion—Founder's Day—a day of immense pride for our school community. It is a day to honor the birthday of our visionary Chairman and celebrate the extraordinary ten-year voyage of progress and excellence that define our school's legacy.

To mark this special day, a heartfelt video was created, capturing cherished memories of our students and of the various events over the years. Alumni students shared their reflections on how the school's journey has influenced their lives.
